Something stunning and sobering is coming to the Dead Sea this June, and I believe every Christian needs to understand what it means prophetically. Israel is hosting the largest LGBT pride festival in Middle East history, right at the lowest place on earth, just miles from ancient Sodom and Gomorrah. I want to walk you through several layers of moral and prophetic significance here, including why Tucker Carlson's recent criticism of evangelical support for Israel actually misses what Scripture tells us to expect from a nation in spiritual unbelief. Israel today is regathered physically but not yet spiritually restored, exactly what Ezekiel 37 and Romans 11 predict. God's covenants with Israel are not cancelled by Israel's sins. We can call out sin clearly and still stand firm in our support for Israel's God-given future. I also answer three listener questions on Daniel's 70 weeks, Babylon's fall in Revelation 18, and the identity of the woman in Revelation 12.
